

SACRED ALLY QUILT MINISTRY

dismantling racism through
art, reflection and action

This is a display of 10 quilts, created by nine NH congregations, memorializing the final, painful and prophetic words of George Floyd in May 2020. Come, pray, commit, take time for quiet reflection and discernment.

dismantling racism through
art, reflection and action

Two Gatherings / Generous Conversation:

THURSDAY, APRIL 14 at 5 PM

“What Kind of Allies Will We Be?”

A panel discussion and community conversation.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15 at 7 PM

“Art, Conscience & Social Justice”

A conversation with organizer Mark Koyama.

This is a display of 10 quilts,
created by nine NH congregations, memorializing the final, painful and prophetic words of George Floyd in May 2020.

Come, pray, commit, take time for quiet reflection and discernment.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14:

5 – 6 pm

“WHAT KIND OF ALLIES WILL WE BE?”

With Kevin Pajaro-Mariñez (Black Lives Matter/Seacoast), Rev. Nathan Bourne (St. George's Episcopal Church), Rev. Alexis Simpson (The Waysmeet Center at UNH), and Rev. Dave Grishaw-Jones (Community Church of Durham, UCC).

A lively community conversation around racism and violence in America, and the kinds of allies we might be in the dismantling of white privilege and systemic racism.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15:

7 – 8:30 pm

“ART, CONSCIENCE & SOCIAL JUSTICE”

With the Rev. Mark Koyama, pastor of the United Church of Jaffrey (NH), and Dr. Harriet Ward, organizers of the Sacred Ally Quilt Ministry.

We're honored that Mark will join us for the evening, sharing with us his vision and experience in this project...and screening for us “Stitch—Breathe—Speak”...the documentary film produced about the quilt project in NH.
